FEDERAL INCORPORATION LAW.

He Says May be Necessary, Which will Compel the Government to Place
Valuation on Properties to Determine Proper Rates.

United Press Telegram.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—Representative Townsend of Jackson, Mich., author of the Esch-Townsend bill, the forerunner of the present railroad rate law and member chosen by the House Committee on the Interstate and Foreign Commerce to lead the rate legislation fight in the House prepared for the United Press a discussion of the rate situation. He says in part:

"The Federal government knows no State lines in the exercise of its power. The doctrine of State rights becomes the most unreal thing when interposed as a barrier to exercise a right distinctly Federal. It carries the doctrine of the fight just regularly on and valuation of their properties by the government may be necessary that it may be known whether more than a just return on their investment is being exacted from the people. It is more than possible all carriers may be forced to incorporate under the national law."

CAR THIEF CAUGHT.

Pennsylvania Railroad Officers Get Much Wanted Man in Fayette County.

Special to The Courier.
GREENSBURG, Aug. 3.—After a three days' search after Charles Hulpaw, a much wanted car robber, the man was located in Fayette county by K. Hutchinson of Greensburg, placed under arrest and taken to the Westmoreland county jail. For the past three days Special Railroad Officers John Detemple, Fred and Hutchinson have been in pursuit of Hulpaw and not until Thursday was he located by Hutchinson at Phillips Works, near Thaw Station, in Fayette county. Hulpaw is one of the gang of car thieves which the Pennsylvania's special officers have been on the trail of for the past six months. It will be recalled that several raids were made on freight cars containing valuable shipments of merchandise during last December and again in February at the County Home Junction. Dry goods, shoes, and many other valuables were carried off in large quantities. The location of the robbers and their many successful thefts puzzled the officers for a long time, but finally they hit the trail, and for the past three months have been gathering the gang in, until now they have 10 of them in the county jail listed for trial at the next session of Quarter Sessions court.

It will also be remembered that a large quantity of the goods was located at Wilkesbarre and an arrest made there. Another of the prisoners was arrested in New Jersey and it was at the hearing given the prisoner there that Officer Frank L. Pruett got the evidence through a letter to the prisoner of Hulpaw's residence in Fayette county. The quarry kept moving from one works to another, and although the trail was hot all this week, they had a hard time locating him. The officers have done remarkably good work in this case, which was one of the worst steals that the railroad company has suffered for some time.

WARNED OFF.

Some Wag Roped in Corpse of Canine and Posted a Board of Health
Notice Over It.

This is what the sign read which was posted over the corpse of a canine which has come to an untimely end on the hospital grounds yesterday. Some wag staked a rope fence about the carcass and posted the above notice.

Burgess Solis was complaining of late that Health Officer Allen Hyatt is derelict in his duty by not seeing that dogs are promptly buried. One dog, killed on Gibson avenue, laid for two days before being placed under the soil.

State's Finances.

HARRISBURG, Aug. 3.—There was a balance of $14,511,936.61 in the general fund of the State Treasury and $1,880,164.99 in the sinking fund, a total of $16,392,091.60 at the beginning of today's business, according to Treasurer Berry's statement for July.

NOVEL CELEBRATION

Planned to Celebrate Mexico's 100th Anniversary of Independence.
CITY OF MEXICO, Aug. 3.—(Special.)—The national committee appointed by President Diaz to arrange for the celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of Mexico's independence has adopted a unique feature as a part of the general plan for observing the patriotic event. It is proposed that public improvements shall be inaugurated on Sept. 15, 1910, which is the date of the centennial independence anniversary, in more than nine hundred cities and towns of the republic. It is estimated that the average cost of each of these public improvements will not be less than $100,000.

In the larger cities where large public buildings or public service improvements are contemplated the amount of money to be expended may run into the millions of dollars. If a general average of $100,000 is expended in each of the nine hundred towns and cities, the total amount of money will be almost $100,000,000.

FINED $29,000,000.

Judge Landis Imposes Maximum Penalty on Standard Oil Company for Violating the Law.

United Press Telegram.
CHICAGO, Aug. 3.—Judge Landis today fined the Standard Oil Company $29,000,000 in the Federal Court for violations of the Elkins Act of 1903, by accepting concessions equivalent to rebates and shipping oil at six cents per 100 pounds when the published rate was eighteen.

This is the largest fine ever recorded in the history of criminal jurisprudence. Judge Landis said the law must be respected in his jurisdiction. Judge Landis directed that the Grand Jury be called August 14 to investigate the conduct of other parties to guilty transactions.

KILLED IN MINE.

Andrew Sarver Met Death in Pit at Garrett, Being Caught by State Fall.

BERLIN, Aug. 3.—The body of Andrew Sarver, who was killed in the Enterprise Coal Company's mine at Garrett yesterday morning, was brought to Berlin on the noon train today and taken to the home of his father, Henry Sarver, of Allegheny township, where services will be held tomorrow afternoon. He was caught by a fall of slate and death was instantaneous. He leaves a widow and five small children.

His wife was formerly Miss Mary Shoeler of near Rockwood. Deceased was about 40 years of age and a most excellent citizen, respected by all who knew him.

HELD FOR COURT.

Shepley Spahr's Divorced Wife Says
She is Afraid of Former Husband.

Shepley Spahr, arrested here yesterday morning for surety of the peace on information before Spahr W. C. Gerko of Morgan Station by Spahr's divorced wife, Bella Hanna, was given a hearing last evening. The information was brought to the Spahr's office in a buggy, apparently very nervous. She couldn't remember what Spahr had told her, but did know she was afraid of him. The prisoner was held for court. He will be taken to Uniontown today. Chief of Police Rottler took Spahr to Morgan for his hearing and brought him back last evening.

A COLLISION.

Two Teams Come Together on Street at Berlin, Pa.

BERLIN, Pa., Aug. 2.—[Special.]—What might have proven a very disastrous accident occurred about 10 o'clock last night immediately in front of the First National Bank on East Main street. Landlord Charles E. McIntyre of the East End Hotel was driving down East Main street in a two-horse buggy in company with his two children.

William Boakes was driving in two opposite direction and in some unknown manner the two teams collided, breaking the pole of Mr. McIntyre's buggy and injuring one of the horses slightly. As good luck would have it, no one was hurt.

CLAIMS MISTREATMENT.

Mrs. McGrew Says Intoxicated Man
Kicked in Door of Stateroom.
PITTSBURGH, Aug. 3.—(Special.)—Mrs. Louise McGrew, who was taken from a boat at Brownsville early yesterday morning on account of having lost Morgantown with a young girl, says that she was treated in a very rough manner by Brownsville officers and that the door of her stateroom was kicked open by an intoxicated man and that she was compelled to leave the boat and walk to the look-out from the wharf in little more than her night dress and slippers. Mrs. McGrew is the wife of the manager of the Labor World.

SAVED BY DOG.

Milkmaid at Johnstown Attacked by Vicious Bull Driven Off by Fearless Canine.

JOHNSTOWN, Aug. 3.—[Special.]—But for the timely assistance of a big, intelligent dog, her faithful friend, Mrs. M. S. Meals would have been gored to death by a maddened bull near Salix yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Meals had gone to the barnyard to milk when she suddenly encountered the animal, who charged down upon her. She struck him on the nose with her milking stool, and she was promptly knocked down.

The bull was endeavoring to strike her with his horns when the dog attacked him by biting furiously at his legs. Each snap was an annoyance, and the bull was worried. At length, the dog became bolder and his teeth went in deep into the flesh. With a snort of rage the bull turned his attention to his new enemy, who led him a wild chase through the fields while the frantic woman escaped to the house.

Mrs. Meals' left arm was broken and she was otherwise injured. The dog escaped unhurt.

CITY AIRS.

Have Been Taken On by Newell and New Salem, Which Now Want to Become Boroughs.

UNIONTOWN, Aug. 3.—If the petitioners go through, two more boroughs will take their places on the Fayette county map in the near future. Newell, the busy little railroad town in Jefferson township is knocking at the door, while New Salem is taking on a few metropolitan airs itself. A previous petition for the incorporation of Newell went wrong but the folks down that way have reconsidered the matter and now Attorney A. P. Austin has come forward with their papers, assuring that the town be made a borough. Little opposition is expected to develop against the movement.

At the same time papers are being prepared for the incorporation of New Salem, the busy coke town which will soon be reached by the West Penn Railway.

CRIPPLES' COURT.

Held by Burgess Solis on This Morning
When Pencil Sellers Were Arraigned for Hearing.

This was "cripples' court" before Burgess Solis on this morning and three prisoners, arraigned before that official were all of her minor ailments, or leg, or both. The men have been about town for a day or so, annoying the pedestrians with their appeals for aid. All were engaged in selling lead pencils, which seems to be a lucrative profession.

Each was warned to leave town within 30 minutes, under a penalty of spending a month in jail for vagrancy if caught here again. The men were James Tinn, whose home is anywhere, William Robinson of Saw Mill Run, Pittsburg, and Frank Wilson of Covington, Ky.

A SUSPECT ARRESTED

William Warman Charged
With Complicity in the Brown Robbery.

ISABEL BROWN WAS TORTURED.

Prisoner Denies That He Had Any Part in the Robbery and Torture—
Officers Also Blame Him for the Lawrence Zehr Holdup.

UNIONTOWN, August 3.—After a close search for over a week County Detective Alex. Metteth and Constable Milton Morris have placed under arrest William Warman, who is suspected of having been implicated in the torture and robbery of Miss Isabel Brown, an aged woman of near Holsersburg just two weeks ago today. Warman is said to be a bad character of Uniontown, and since that affair happened to be making himself scarce to prevent arrestments. The first annual outing of the Association will take place on Thursday, August 8, and will probably occur at the Mountain Water Club, four miles east of Uniontown, on the old National Pike.

It is needless to state that the best food to be obtained will be taken along for the inner man, but there is one feature in the food line that the hotel keepers believe will be unique. They are going to have an ox roast.

The ox will not be roasted in the old stereotyped style so that it is cold when served, but this ox will be roasted in the style originated by the American Indians hundreds of years ago. The animal will be placed on an enormous spit and hung above a fire, which will be built on a furnace constructed from the fire stone found in the mountains. Each guest of the association will be provided with a butcher knife, and as the ox is turned on the spit the guests will cut off their own meat and in that way obtain it while it is hot and in a delicious state. Spence Todd and George Thlow have been delegated to purchase the ox and they have promised to secure the best to be had.

IT LOOKS BLUE.

Local Baseball Situation Far From Promising but Loyal Support
Work Wonders for Team.

The local baseball situation is far from promising today, but it is expected that something may be done between now and Monday which will put the team on a solid basis at present. The players are sticking in like good fellows and are willing to remain in town if there is any prospect at all of getting out even. If the attendance warrants, the boys will continue to remain in town and in the meantime efforts will be made to get out side assistance.

Many of the fans are coming for word with words and deeds of encouragement. Although yesterday was ladies' day, when the fair sex are admitted free a number of ladies came forward and paid the regular admission fee, expressing their desire to help the team along.

In the meantime it is to be hoped that the attendance will pick up. Now that they are working for themselves, the boys are playing great ball and there is little question but that the next week or so, if the team holds out, will see Connellsville fast climbing to the top.

One day next week or the week following will be set aside for "boomers' day" when the admission will probably be raised to 50 cents or $1.00. This will give the fans an opportunity to show their loyalty. It is also said that efforts will be made to secure an exhibition game with Uniontown, which would be an exception to the good drawing card, now that the Champs have struck a slump and seem to be more in Connellsville's class than ever before.

Tonight the boys will meet and divide the net proceeds from the games of yesterday and today. The team is scheduled to play at Beaver Falls Monday and Tuesday and at home the rest of the week.

COAL WAR ON.

New Orleans Dealers Are Fighting Big Pittsburg Companies.

War has been declared by Southern coal dealers against the "River Coal" the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal & Coke Company. Four of the largest independent dealers in the Pittsburgh district, with headquarters in Pittsburgh yesterday perfected a deal with three of the largest coal men of New Orleans to supply at least 300,000 tons a year to the New Orleans district alone, in direct competition with the river combine.

The New Orleans representatives have been in Pittsburg since Wednesday morning. A working agreement was reached yesterday afternoon. A price war in the lower Mississippi Valley is certain to follow.

BIG OUTING

Is Anticipated at the Outing of the Red Men August 13.

A big time is anticipated on August 13 when the Red Men will give a mammoth picnic to Olympia Park. Members of the order from all points in Western Pennsylvania are expected to participate. Three special trains will be run from this section, one from Connellsville, another from Mt. Pleasant and the last from Point Marion.

Parades will be held in various towns next week to boost the outing. The Red Men will promenade the streets of Connellsville next Friday evening.

AN OX ROAST

Will Be Given by the Hotel Keepers of Uniontown in the Mountains Next Thursday.

The lawyers have had their picnic and the brewery people have had theirs, but the Hotel Keepers' Association of Uniontown promise to give an outing in the near future which will surpass all other of the events given by the organizations. According to present arrangements the first annual outing of the Association will take place on Thursday, August 8, and will probably occur at the Mountain Water Club, four miles east of Uniontown, on the old National Pike.

It is needless to state that the best food to be obtained will be taken along for the inner man, but there is one feature in the food line that the hotel keepers believe will be unique. They are going to have an ox roast.

The ox will not be roasted in the old stereotyped style so that it is cold when served, but this ox will be roasted in the style originated by the American Indians hundreds of years ago. Each guest of the association will be provided with a butcher knife, and as the ox is turned on the spit the guests will cut off their own meat and in that way obtain it while it is hot and in a delicious state. Spence Todd and George Thlow have been delegated to purchase the ox and they have promised to secure the best to be had.

MEASURING ROADS.

Steam and Electric Lines Must Tell
Distance Between Stations on Their Roads.

Both steam and electric railroads are now busy preparing the new statements required to be furnished the State Department at Harrisburg, by a recent Act of Assembly, which makes it obligatory for such companies to file on or before August 31 a statement of the distance between each regular station on the line of the company.

This law was so vague in its wording that the Attorney General was appealed to. That official admitted the faulty construction of the Act, but gave his opinion as to what its provisions are. Unless this report is made by the time specified, a fine of $5,000 may be assessed.

ious Illness.

Wade Echard of Uniontown, president of the Northern Connellsville Coke Company, and the Unity Connellsville Coke Company, who has been in the Westmoreland Hospital at Greensburg for the past 33 days, suffering from typhoid fever and bronchial pneumonia, has so far regained his health and strength that he returned to his home at Uniontown yesterday. Mr. Echard's condition was serious for ten days. The bronchial pneumonia which developed after his admission to the hospital aggravated the case. Mr. Echard will take a long rest before returning to his duties. He will probably go to Mt. Lake Park, Md., for a few days.

CAR OWNERS

Meet in Cleveland to Discuss the New Rate Law Concerning Private Cars.

J. J. Dougherty of town has just returned from Cleveland, O., where he represented the Queanahoning Car Company at a meeting held to organize an association of private car owners throughout the United States. There were 60 delegates present at the meeting, representing 80,000 cars. The next meeting will be held in Chicago September 3. The new railroad rate law creates many new phases in the ownership of private cars and the association is being formed to solve these questions. Sale of cars to railroads is objected principally because the transportation companies will not pay a fair price for them.

SHEEP KILLING DOGS.

They Are Giving the Commissioners Trouble in Jefferson Twp.

COST THE COUNTY OVER $1,100

Joseph T. Elliott of That Township
Since January First of This Year
Has Had Nearly One Hundred Sheep Killed.

UNIONTOWN, August 3.—Sheep killing dogs are giving the County Commissioners a lot of trouble these days, although there has never been a time of late when these canines didn't give the officials some worry. It appears that Jefferson township is now in the limelight for sending in the greatest amount of sheep claims and Joseph T. Elliott heads the list. To date there have been bills from Jefferson township amounting to $1,125.29 for sheep claims since the first of the year, and this does not include the one returned this morning by Harvey J. Elliott for $66.50.

Joseph T. Elliott has been particularly unfortunate. Since January 1 he has had 87 sheep killed or wounded, and his claims to date amount to $232. In most cases the ownership of the dogs is unknown.

The largest claim filed has come from John C. Moore of German township, who asks $161.50 for 22 sheep killed and nine wounded on May 15. These claims cost the county between $2,000 and $2,500 each year and there is seldom enough money to meet them. They are paid in rotation.

KITTANNING IS EASY.

Poor Support for Lang and Clever Playing by Con-nectville.

THE SAME TEAMS PLAY TODAY.

Manager Jack Dolan Will Try His Hand Against Malarkey's Outfit.
Elmer Tims Will Try His Southpaw
Shots Against Locals.

The orphaned Coke Heavers played like veterans yesterday and gave Kittanning an awful drubbing at Marietta-Stillwagon Park, the final score being 9 to 2. In spite of the one-sided score, the game was interesting in spots, and but for some costly errors behind him, Lang would have made a far better showing. Lang himself made two bad ones, which didn't help Kittanning any. But it wasn't the errors that made the score stand the way it did. The Orphans played real base ball. They plunked the pellet hard and often, used excellent judgment on bases, and played inside ball when necessary. Brilliant plays were in evidence at all times.

For a while the visitors helded in fine style, but then things broke wrong. Tims and May, in the outfield, slipped up on a couple of chances that let the home club walk in with a few more runs, and then the infield became inert.

Lang was no puzzle, although he let up at times. Every little bit Red would show a streak of good form and retire the Orphans with ease, but at other times they walked away with his delivery.

Zinn had Kittanning on his wagon. Fast fielding kept down the hits. In the fourth inning Tims got the first single and was then caught between first and second and run down. May got a hit in the next inning but died on second. A third hit came to Bernard Stillwagon in the eighth but he died on a fielder's choice to second. These scattered bingles resulted in no runs. Then came some hard luck in the ninth. Harmuth hit to left and the ball bounded past O'Hara, the runner getting to third on the fly. Then Tims popped a fly to left which the wind carried off of O'Hara's reach and Harmuth scored. Tims trotted home when Griffin made a bad throw to third trying to catch him napping. The next three men were easy outs. Following is the score:

Connellsville	A. B. R. H. P. A. E.

BASEBALL NOTES.

Doings of the Players in the West Penn and the P. O. M.

W. L. Leannon of the Uniontown Herald, according to report, is scouting in the West Penn for players to help Uniontown out. Might take the Connellsville team, which doesn't seem to be getting the right kind of support here.

Carasquica, with Johnny Woodruff pitching, defeated the East Ends, 3 to 0, though White, the East End pitcher, did not allow Carasquica a hit. Three runs were scored in the first inning by Danny Hart's clever base running and errors by East End. Hart still leads off for Carasquica and is holding in great form. Thursday he accepted six chances without a slip. He is playing short.

The gloom has settled so deeply over Uniontown that the Skyscraper hasn't been seen for days.

Red Hinton, the idol of the Uniontown fans at the opening of the season, has been benched for indifferent playing, and third yesterday was covered by Roberts and Keller. How the mighty have fallen!

Hughes Fate, brother of Harry Tate has gone to his home in Cumberland from Marion, Ind. He has a sprained ankle and will not play any more this season.

"Bull" Smith, the noted base ball player of Clarkburg, has been engaged by the manager of the Clarkburg base ball club of the West Penn League as manager of the Clarkburg team to succeed Captain Essler, whose resignation was accepted on Friday. Mr. Smith has entered on his duties as manager and field captain, and as he is an experienced and able base ball player, the team will doubtless meet with success under his management. Smith has taken charge of the team. He is a graduate of the University of West Virginia, where he played on both the football and baseball teams. He made a fine record with Wheeling and was given a trial two years ago by Pittsburgh. Smith is a young man and ought to make a consistent winner out of Clarkburg.

Griffin pegged the last man at first was the batter struck out.

Bad business management and the betting fever are responsible for the predicament of the Connellsville West Penn team at present.

In 18 innings of a double header at Uniontown yesterday the fallen Champs were only able to score two runs, while Steubenville crossed the home plate 15 times. Uniontown used about all the pitchers they have but the tide could not be stemmed. The Champs are on the toboggan good and hard, and it looks as though they will not finish better than fourth.

Properly handled and with a little strengthening the Connellsville team would have been up among the leaders and there would have been money in the treasury.

Mart May is not a shining success in the outer garden. It was more luck than good management that he got a hit yesterday.

Very much on the Somerset order. Lang, Tims and Moran are out of their class.

Tiffany made a great stop in the seventh when Bilham threw Strong's grounder right. It was a backhand catch.

Welsh made a stellar catch of Lang's fly in the eighth. It robbed Red of a much needed hit and brought down the grandstand. Both Welsh and Zinn field in right exceptionally well for twirlers.

Bobby Laird was full of ginger on the side lines.

Mart May fell down on everything that came his way. He had on Byerman's shoes, and this probably accounts for his slipping about so much.

Lang fumbled a couple of bunts in nice style.

Kittanning is almost a Connellsville team. Malarkey, May, Bernard Stillwagon, Lang, Tims and Moran all either live here or were Connellsville uniforms early in the season.

Tims will probably pitch for Kittanning today. Dolan will work for Connellsville.

Umpire Billy Sims was there with the goods. A few kinks were made, but Sims evidently knows how to handle the incident. He has been working in the inter-State.

Patronize the grandstand today. The team needs the money.

Lots of "pop" in the team. Some of the baserunning was sensational.

In the ninth inning Griffin caught Strong napping off first base. This was after Mart May had fanned and ended the game.

Birmingham made more runs than he was times at bat. This is unusual. The scrappy little fellow got two passes and had a sacrifice.

Harmuth and Stillwagon both fielded well. Weaver is a little unreliable on second.

Billy Malarkey is managing Kittanning.

Bernard Stillwagon's single in the eighth was clean. Mart May's was a lucky one.

Pat Moran failed to connect with Zinn's delivery.

In the second inning Birmingham went from first to third on Tiffany's sacrifice. It was mighty clever base running, and Tiffany's bunt was just in the right direction.

WAR IN CHINATOWN.

Hip Song Tongs From New York Go to Boston and Slay Countrymen.

THREE DEAD, SEVERAL DYING

Secret Society Fued Breaks Out in an Unexpected Locality—On Leong
Tongs Taken By Surprise and Shot Down Like Sheep.

Boston, Aug. 8.—Burning with hatred for their deadly enemies belonging to the rival On Leong Tong society, a band of New York Chinamen numbering a dozen or more and said to be members of the notorious Hip Sing Tong organization, entered a narrow alley in Chinatown last night and opened fire with revolvers upon half a hundred Chinamen, killing three and injuring seven. At the first volley the Chinamen rushed for their quarters, stumbling over one another in their haste to reach shelter. The Hip Sing Tong men chased their victims into their own doorways and shot them down as they rushed up stairs or into side rooms. Then casting away their guns the strange visitors ran from the Chinese quarter, most of them escaping the police. The dead:

Wong Su Jung, restaurant keeper.
Chin Let, laundryman.
Chin Mon Quin, merchant.

Of the injured, Lee Kai, Slang Gu and Jong Gou probably were fatally injured. The three others are in a serious condition.

Immediately after the shooting one of the Hip Sing Tong men from New York was captured by a policeman as he was running away. The man gave the name of Nim Sing. He was dressed in American clothes. Later an officer at the South station took him into custody. Hong Woon, age 34, of New York, whose hands were stained with manslaughter. The police placed under arrest seven other Chinamen who are strangers in the local colony. The shooting occurred in Oxford place, in the center of Chinatown, where about 50 Chinamen were smoking in the open air. Fully 50 shots were fired. The witnesses shot with careful accuracy was apparent from the fact that each of the three men killed was shot through the heart.

The trouble has been anticipated for more than a week. About 10 days ago nearly a dozen Chinamen who were all strangers came to Boston and rented rooms near Chinatown. The police were notified of the fact by Boston Chinamen, who feared trouble. Special details of police were at once placed on duty in the Chinese quarter and the strangers suddenly disappeared.

The trouble is attributed by some to the shooting which occurred in Philadelphia recently, for which it is said Boston Chinamen were particularly blamed. It is thought the Chinamen who did the shooting here came from New York to punish the On Leong Tong for the Philadelphia outbreak.

MAGILLS INDICTED

Charged With Murder of Mrs. Pat Magill in Six Counts.

Clinton, Ill., Aug. 8.—The grand jury which has been investigating the death of Mrs. Pat Magill, the first wife of Fred Magill, who, with his second wife is in jail here, having been brought back from California to answer to the charge of having caused the death of Mrs. Pat Magill, has returned one indictment against Magill and one against Mr. Fay E. Graham Magill. The indictments were exactly alike, each containing six distinct counts.

The six counts in each indictment are as follows: That Mrs. Pat Magill was murdered by the administration of strychnine poison; that the murder was done by assault; that she was smothered with a quilt; that she was strangled to death by chloroform; that she committed suicide as the result of a compact and agreement with the defendants and by their advice and counsel in that her death was caused by the defendants by some means unknown to the grand jury.

SLIDE BREAKS ANKLE

Wilmington, Del., Aug. 8.—Phillip Conroy, center fielder of the Johnstown, Pa. club of the Tri-State League, was badly injured in a game here with Wilmington. While sliding for a second base in the first inning his right foot caught in the bag and he received a double fracture of the ankle. He was carried to the clubhouse and Dr. Crawford, a spectator reduced the fractures.

Conroy, who lives in Harlem, New York, will remain in Wilmington until Monday when he will be taken to his home. He will be out of the game the balance of the season. Conroy had arranged to play ball with winter at Portland, Ore. He was one of the mainstays of the Johnstown team.

Will Test Wright Aeroplane.

Paris, Aug. 8.—It is reported here that a secret test of the Wright brothers' aeroplane is about to take place in France as the result of an arrangement with the French government. The aeroplane, it is understood, has been shipped from the United States and orders have been issued to the customs authorities to pass the case unopened.

CHESS CLOCKS.

There Are Specially Constructed Ones
Used in the Game.

Goggles, or sundoggles, were formerly used for the purpose of measuring time at chess matches, but now specially constructed clocks are in general use for this purpose. These clocks consist of two clocks mounted on a common base, which moves on a pivot, the two clocks therefore being on the arms of a sort of seesaw. The beam, or base, is so constructed that when one clock is elevated it stands perfectly perpendicular, while the depressed clock lies over at an angle, but as the mechanism of each clock is so constructed that it only moves when the clock is perfectly perpendicular it follows that when the upright clock is going the depressed clock is at rest.

Another and more modern variety has the two clocks fixed on the same level, but with a small brass arm reaching from the top of one to the top of the other. This arm acts on a pivot and can be brought down into actual contact with one clock at a time by a touch of the finger. When it is thus in contact by an ingenious device the clock is stopped and the desired result is attained. The working of the clock during a match is simply itself. At the commencement of the match the hands of each clock point to 12. Then at the call of "time to commence play" the clock of the first player is started; then as soon as he makes his first move he stops his own clock either by depressing it or by touching the arm referred to, the same motion starting his opponent's clock. So it goes on during the entire course of the game, each move being marked by the stopping of one clock and the starting of the other.

COUNTERFEIT BILLS.

The Check Letter Test on United States Currency.

The United States government prints its currency and numbers its bills in a series of four, so that every piece of paper money turned out bears one of the check letters—A, B, C, D. One of these letters is always found in two places on a United States bill, in the upper left hand corner and in the lower right hand corner. The number of the letter on the bill is not determined by the number of the bill. The rule is to divide the last two figures on the note by four. Should the remainder be one, the check letter must be A; should it be two the check letter is B; three, the check letter is C; and nothing, the letter D.

For example, I have before me a five dollar certificate. Its number is 115770. The terminal number is 30. Divide by four. The result is seven with two over. The check letter is B. Here is a yellow back gold certificate with twenty-three as its terminal number. Divide this by four and we have five with three over. C is the check letter.

Should this rule of four fail to work on any United States currency note you may bet all you have that the money is bad. Some counterfeit bills are right to their back letters, but a great many are not so if the rule of four works. The bill may be still bad, but if it doesn't it is surely bad. This rule applies only to United States currency and not to national bank notes. —Minneapolis Journal.

Spain's Buried Wealth.

The Carthaginians and the Tyrians regarded Spain as El Dorado. It is but a poor country today, but potential wealth lies in its rock bound hills, just as in the days of the ancients. When the acquisitive mania of the Punic nations first set foot in the country they exchanged their commodities, says Aristotle, "for such immense quantities of silver that their ships could neither contain nor sustain the load, though they used it for ballast and made their anchors and other implements of silver." So rich in silver was the country then that the people are said to have made their common domestic utensils of the metal and even their manure. The Romans found that their greedy forerunners had so diminished the precious store, yet enough was left to satisfy not a few provincials.

Mental Medicine.

A somewhat eccentric physician who recently died would order patients to take walks, say daily, on the left side of the street, returning by the other side; another he would order to arise each morning at a certain hour and eat cheese with ginger beer; another to take supper precisely at midnight and eat only apples, or he would instruct the patient to put just so many at the of salt on the egg he was to eat and put his hair in a different way each day. This object was to get the mind of the patient on something else than symptoms, and this scheme worked well in many cases, especially when the patient was suffering from melancholia. —New York Times.

Muskat Skin Cure.

"The skin of a muskrat (taken and worn next to the chest will cure many cases of asthma in the world," said a Louisville man. "I had an uncle who suffered a thousand deaths with asthma and tried everything that could be bought in the way of medicine. Finally one day an old time friend told him of the muskrat skin, and he tried it. In two months he was as well as he had ever been. Just how the skin works about a cure is a mystery, but it will do it." —Nashville Tennessean.

The Comparison.

Lessee and Lemaignre, who were both as this as late, were discussing a mutual friend. Lessee—I met our friend Durand this morning. He has grown so thin. Lemaignre—Really? And he was so stout. Lessee—Yes, it is dreadful. He is thinner than both of us put together now. —Pelo Mele

NO EXCUSE FOR A MINERS' STRIKE.

There is no excuse for the threatened strike of the miners in the employ of the Pittsburgh Coal Company, the chief coal producer of the Pittsburgh region.

The differences between the company and the miners are being proceeded so frantically with evil for the world of consumption waiting on its coal supply. The suffering last winter in the blizzard-beaten Northwest from lack of fuel was terrible. It was charged to the railroads, but it was due in a larger measure to the imprudent policy of dealers in not laying up their stocks during the summer season when deliveries were in no danger of delay.

Profiting by this bitter experience, these more or less inaccessible districts are laying up their winter supply now. A strike of the miners in any considerable number will seriously interfere with this good work, and may be the cause of more innocent suffering six months hence. Humanity demands that both operators and miners consider this situation in dealing with each other. The public have some rights which each are bound morally at least to respect.

The substance of the disputes between the operators and the miners is that the former have been guilty of trifling irregularities and the latter of bringing into the controversy trifling matters not connected with it. Under the circumstances, it would seem that the appointment of an arbitrator with full power to decide and settle the matters in controversy would be the reasonable and sensible thing to do.

EXCITING BUT EXPENSIVE.

The managers of the Connelleville baseball club announce that they must have more money to keep the club going. The treasury is empty and the team will have to be disbanded unless the enthusiastic lovers of the great American game come up with another liberal contribution.

Baseball stock in this section must be classed as the commonest of the common. It not only pays no dividends, but its assessments are constant. To anybody but a real sportsman they would be appalling. Connelleville has expended this season something like $1,800 including the gate receipts. Uniontown raised $16,000 cash to back its team and the funds are reported to be almost exhausted. Baseball is exciting but expensive.

THE POLICY OF B. & O. IMPROVEMENT.

The determination of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company to double-track the Baltimore branch is probably not due to any fears the managers of the company entertain of the advent of the Walston system, but rather to the necessity for properly caring for the immensely increased business that comes down toward Pittsburg over the "Shoeshin."

A wise railroad management, like any other wise industrial management, aims to increase its business at profitable rates, and when the increase comes it puts forth its best efforts to take care of it. Having acquired the business, it does not like to turn it away. If enlarged facilities are necessary, it does not hesitate to dip into its surplus to provide them.

This is the situation of the Baltimore & Ohio management with regard to the Fairmont branch and in dealing with it the company is only following out the unswerving policy which has governed its course ever since the Shadow of Bryanism lifted and the Sunshine of Sound Money flooded the nation with prosperity.

THE WAYNESBURG BANK WILL RISE AGAIN.

The Farmers' & Drivers' National Bank of Waynesburg was crippled, but not wrecked. The blow paralyzed its chief stockholders, and they were slow to awaken from their dazed condition. They leaned on the Government, hoping for a coal land boom that would lift them out of the morass of indebtedness in which they floundered.

Evidently they were willing to wait on the boom, but the Treasury Department at Washington wouldn't have it that way. Anticipation did not settle with the creditors. Action was demanded, and when last-summer accompanied the demand action got a move on.

A practical plan for rejuvenating the bank, as been outlined and one stockholder has gotten to work on it. That they will carry it through successfully is not doubted. We may reasonably hope to see the old bank back to business by the close of the present month.

It will be a matter of congratulation, not only on the part of the Waynesburg and Greene county people, but on the part of all other financial interests in Southwestern Pennsylvania.

GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP NOT WHOLLY UNDESIRABLE.

The prosecution of the Powder Trust by the Government has aroused the lively fears of some timid persons, who tell us that the powder supply is short and that if we were to have war with Japan, for instance, we wouldn't have enough ammunition to shoot up the enemy.

Such people are like the girl who wopt bitterly before the bake oven, because, as she explained, she just thought she might some day get married and might have a little baby and it might crawl into the hot oven and be burned to death. We are not at war with Japan, at least not yet. Our powder requirements are not so extensive but that they cannot be cared for.

In this connection it might be stated that government ownership of its powder supply would for many reasons be desirable. We are not opposed to all forms of government or municipal ownership.

Henry Clay Frick scarcely got started to Europe for a long rest until he was recalled by the illness of Henry H. Rogers, and it is intimated that the former will succeed the latter as the head of the Standard Oil Company. Frick is big enough, but he is not inclined to end his life in slavish existence, and he will not be wise if he does.

The lead pencil trade in Connelleville seems to drive cripples to drink.

The State is taking the measure of the railroads, but it is probably hoped by the latter that it is not for the purpose of making them new suits.

The Big Stick is reading a summer lecture to the railroads.

It begins to look as though Taft was abandoned as the Administration candidate and a man named Cortelyou substituted. One never knows when to find Cortelyou. He climbs up the ladder of Fame when nobody is looking.

The King of Belgium and the King of Wall Street settled the Congo question in one sitting in Paris yesterday.

The River Coal Combine is confronted with another Pittsburgh coal combine in the New Orleans market. Coal is coal at the mouth of the Mississippi, and Louisiana people will read this announcement with interest.

John Sharp Williams is in doubt at this writing. A national reputation doesn't always make a cinch in Southern politics.

Caution and contentment is the latest recipe for longevity. The strength of the fleet is increased by the tempering of the sweetness of the latter.

The experience of a Dunbar policeman illustrates the necessity on the part of policemen and other peace officers of strict accountability in all cases where forfeits are left in their hands. A policeman should not be careless in the performance of any part of his duty.

The Haywood counsel are fighting among themselves. This is singular. It has not been generally understood that there was as much money in the job as there was in the "shaw case."

The figures show that the Carnegie Free Library grows scantily in favor with the Connelleville public. The borough authorities charged with the duty of furnishing its maintenance should not overlook this fact.

The Connelleville ball club should engage the services of J. Pierpont Morgan to finance it. We might beat Uniontown then.

Bulls are sometimes anything but gentleman cows.

BIRTHDAY OF KING.

All Norway Today Is En Fete
For Their Ruler
Haakon.

HAS PROVEN POPULAR RULER.

In His Brief Reign He Has Won the Hearts of the People of Norway—
Was Trained for Sea and Likes It—
Which Pleases the Norwegians.

Special to The Courier.
CHRISTIANIA, Aug. 3.—Christina was aglow with flags and beating to day and there was much popular rejoicing over the thirty-fifth anniversary of the birth of King Haakon. Addresses of congratulation were received from cities and towns throughout Norway and to these were added the felicitations of all the sovereigns of Europe. The greetings of the latter were conveyed to the royal palace by the diplomatic representatives, who were received in person by the King.

The popular festivities in honor of the King's birthday afford but another proof of the strong hold he has secured on the affections of his subjects. The sincere regard of the Norwegians for their king and queen is all the more remarkable since it is not yet two years that the young Danish prince and his English princess were invited to assume the sovereignty. In the modern history of Europe no parallel is to be found. King Haakon's uncle, Prince George of Denmark, accepted the throne of Greece and has occupied it for nearly 45 years. Yet the people of Greece entertain no real affection for him. And the same may be said of the German prince who has become the ruler of Roumania and Bulgaria. The case of King Haakon, in fact, affords the only example of an alien ruler who has been accepted with genuine loyalty and taken into the hearts of his new subjects.

And it is but natural that the strong characteristics of King Haakon should win the attachment of his people. And the winning personality of Queen Maud and the charm of the little Prince Olaf, heir to the throne, have further endeared the royal couple to the Norwegian people.

But there is one trait possessed by the King that, perhaps more than any other, has pleased the Norwegians. This is his love for the sea.

As a child he was set apart for a naval career. To this end he was educated by his father until he was 14 years old, when he passed the examination for admission into the naval academy. There he spent the regulation four years, faring just as his comrades of non-royal blood fared, no better, no worse.

On leaving the academy he began his active career as a midshipman. That was in 1890. In the years that followed he slowly mounted to the grade of captain, attaining that rank only a year or so before he was called to the throne of Norway. When at sea he was a hard worker and he demanded hard work from all under him. Yet he was well liked by his officers and the common sailors were known to hold him in high regard.

To this day his favorite associates are men of the navy, and much of his time is spent in the study of naval problems. On returning from a visit to Copenhagen or a sojourn in England, Queen Maud's home, his first task is to call in some of the high officials of the Norwegian navy and engage in long talks with them. Given his way, his one subject of conversation is always the sea and the things that pertain therein.

And, as before stated, this love for the sea pleases the Norwegians immensely, for the Kings who have made their history have been men of the sea, largely.

RUMBAUGH POPULAR.

Reported That He Had Number of Affairs in Nearby Towns.

MT. PLEASANT, Aug. 3.—Who is the girl in Uniontown with whom Amos R. Rumbaugh was fascinated? According to a statement of a friend of the man who shot himself at Colorado Springs on account of Miss Laura Matthews, an actress, Rumbaugh had a sweetheart in Uniontown and one in Scottsdale. This friend also declares that Rumbaugh was a great "ladle" man and was popular everywhere he went.

It is commonly believed here that Rumbaugh blew out his brains with the same revolver he had used in the Philippines. This was a Colt's of the army pattern, and he always had it when traveling and thought a great deal of it. His body is expected here tomorrow and the funeral will probably be held on Sunday, although no definite arrangements have yet been made.

After Narrow Gauge.

A meeting of the merchants at Waynesburg has been called to take action against the Waynesburg & Washington narrow gauge railroad for violating the new State law prohibiting the charging of exorbitant freight rates.

Celebrate 89th Birthday.

Mrs. Mary Stader of Latrobe celebrated her 89th birthday. She was born in Germany and came to America with her parents when 18. She is the only survivor of a family of eight children.

From Westmoreland's County Seat.

GREENSBURG, Aug. 3.—Delmont had a lively little fire last night. Mrs. J. W. Martz kindled her fire with oil, and while it was catching up nicely she went to a neighbor's on an errand. When she came back the house was in flames. The famous communicated with W. J. Fenuoli's big stable, and it was also burned along with Martz's stable, just adjacent. The total loss will reach $3,000, with no insurance. Delmont's celebrated bucket brigade turned out to fight the fire and saved a number of buildings in the near vicinity. A high wind was blowing at the time, which made the fire doubly dangerous.

"Boosters' Day" was a great help to the Greensburg team. About 600 people attended, and almost that many more purchased tickets but didn't find time to attend. Greensburg fans are warming up since their team is holding a good place in the League.

Greensburg is being troubled with a new variety of sneak thieves. Mrs. Machesney of Fairview avenue was a victim yesterday. She paid her milk bill at the curb in the morning and laid her pocketbook down just inside the back door. When she came inside after sweeping the pavement her money was gone. Mrs. A. C. Webber met with practically the same experience at her home in the Banker Hill district. She was sweeping when a strange man went into the next yard. He came out and passed on in a short time. Going to the rear of her house, which was not protected by a fence, Mrs. Webber found the door open and her pocketbook, which was in a cupboard, gone. She and Mrs. Machesney blame the thefts on a professional tramp, and the police are keeping a close watch on them.

Company 1's men have a big lead in the regimental shoot, which was finished yesterday at the Youngwood range. It looks as if Private Hillis would land the trophy for the highest individual score, although the odds have not yet been officially given out. He is a wonder at the long ranges and usually gets away from the 200 yard range with a good score. The attendance at the shoot was not nearly so large as was expected. Company C of Uniontown sent more men than any other company. The field and staff were well represented. It is certain that the Tenth will send a fast team to McClelland and that some of them will get farther than that when the State team is selected for the national tournament.

RIDGLEY SATISFIED.

If Enough Funds Are Raised Drovers' Bank at Waynesburg Can Re-open on August 25th.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—An agreement was reached today between Comptroller of the Currency Ridgley and a committee representing the stockholders and directors of the Waynesburg Farmers and Drovers National Bank, by which it is expected that institution, now in the hands of a receiver, will be reorganized and opened. The committee, composed of State Senator Daniel S. Walton, Judge James Ingram, Captain J. B. Donnelly and Dr. J. T. James, held a long conference with the Comptroller, after which it was announced that the directors and other parties would be given until August 25 to produce sufficient funds to protect the depositors. Mr. Ridgley made it plain to the committee that he was willing to reopen the bank whenever he was satisfied that its assets were in such a shape as to guarantee protection to the depositors.

In order to carry out the agreement with the Comptroller, it will be necessary for the committee to turn over to the bank $200,000 by August 25. The receiver has collected from the assets of the bank $150,000. Three hundred thousand dollars is already subscribed for the new concern and the committee is confident that it can raise this subscription to $200,000. With the $200,000 in other assets, the Comptroller is of the opinion that if the committee is able to raise $200,000, the bank will then be in a position to take care of its depositors, and is willing to turn the affairs of the institution over to the reorganization committee. The deposits in the bank when closed by the Treasury Department amounted to almost $2,000,000.

The department has now on hand $450,000, and will pay the depositors a 25 per cent. dividend if the bank is not reorganized. The assets of the bank consist largely of mortgages on coal lands which, while their value is unquestioned by the reorganization committee, it was impossible to realize upon when the institution was closed in December.

SUNDAY SCHOOL WORKERS.

Holding Meeting in the M. E. Church at Berlin.

BERLIN, Pa., Aug. 3.—[Special.] A Sunday school convention is being held in the Methodist Episcopal church this afternoon and evening. The Rev. W. V. Barnhart, pastor of the United Brethren church of Connelville, and H. S. Forsythe of Duquesne are in attendance.

The convention today is being conducted irrespective of denomination, all lines, and much interest is being taken in the work. The noon train brought quite a number here to help in the movement.

AN ADAMLESS EDEN.

Art Colony Where Fair Maidens Will Be the Sole Rulers.

FIFTY AGREE TO BAR MEN.

Young Women Who Join Long Island Colony Must Remain Unwedded Three Years—Visitors Admitted Occasionally—Members to Work Hard.

It will be set for art's sake in earnest and with the elimination of what to them is a disturbing element—men—when the newly formed association of young women art students, the Glades, withdraw from New York city and establish their own little colony in Long Island, says the New York Herald. By next spring, at least, fifty struggling and determined young students expect to have a fine home, which will possess all the advantages of a New York studio building, while the cost will be low enough to enable them to devote time to the work they long to do instead of keeping on with the endless chain of part-timers.

The idea of the new art colony originated with a group of young women illustrators who wanted the advantages of a skylight and a north light with the comfort of a kitchenette, a combination difficult to find in Manhattan at a rental that is not prohibitive to such young workers. Through friends they succeeded in interesting four well known New York women, who have become the financial backers of the colony. Plans for the studio dormitory have been passed on by the officers, and just as soon as a few changes have been made the work of building will be begun.

Miss Elizabeth Curtis, an illustrator of children's stories, who is president of the Glades Art association, when seen in her studio in New York the other afternoon, was earnest and enthusiastic over the success of the project.

"It will mean that we art students and workers can live on about $3 a week, and this will include the cost of models and our meals. Besides, each girl will have a good light to work on, for very few of us can afford to have regular studio light. The upper floor of the house will be divided into apartments of three bedrooms, bath, kitchenette and studio, and each one will be occupied by three girls, who will get their meals together and use the same model."

"The only work outside of our art that we will have to do will be cooking, and that will be a little recreation for us. There will be a kitchen, a housework, a housekeeper and several professional chaperons, for of course we could not live there alone."

"We want only girls who are earnest workers to join the colony, and each one will receive a six months' trial, after which she will be asked to leave if we decide that she is not progressing. Any girl who has had two years' work at an art school is eligible to membership, but we prefer girls who are serious in their work and who depend upon their brush to earn their daily bread."

"It will not be like a school, for there are to be no classes. The girls will work independently. Most of them are already fairly well known as illustrators, and they ought to advance rapidly under the favorable conditions offered by the club."

"Beside the expense of studio life in New York, there is the disadvantage of not having good outdoor backgrounds and scenery at hand. Every art student has grown so tired of sketching Central park that she longs to get fresh country, and this is one reason we chose a place outside of the city."

One of the rules of the association says that the members of the colony must pledge themselves to spinsterhood for a period of three years. If, however, one of them changes to fall in love and becomes engaged to marry, then she must ask to be released from her pledge, which is equivalent to a resignation.

When reference was made to the rule barring men from the colony Miss Curtis explained that they would introduce this to make it more interesting. "We had to make it more interesting, and you know there are many of them who pretend to be interested in art, but who are not so really—would be visiting us at all hours of the day. We have arranged special times when they may call to see us, but we cannot allow them to stay after these hours."

Other officers of the Glades Art association are Miss Bella Stewart of West One Hundred and Third street, whose oriental children's pictures are well known; Miss Eleanor Townsend of New Rochelle; Miss Edith Russell of Brooklyn; and Miss Lillian Elkins of New York.

Odd American Weather Story.

More than a thousand Italian emigrants, mostly destitute, returned to Naples from America recently, says a special cable dispatch from Rome to the New York Sun. Several thousand more are expected shortly. The reason given for their return is that the excessive heat in America has interrupted work in the fields and mines. This is not believed in Rome. The investigation authorities fear that the return of so many men is a sign of a cessation in the demand for unskilled labor in America.

Her Cleverness.

She—Mary Graham is certainly a very clever woman, yet she has little to say. "What's her cleverness?" comes in. She leads a man to believe that she thinks he is worth her tender to—Pick-Me-Up.

THE "MARSEILLAISE."

It Was Written by Rouget de Lisle in One Brief Hour.

On April 25, 1792, Rouget de Lisle, the military engineer, who had assumed the aristocratic prefix to become an officer, was a guest at a banquet given by Baron Dietrich, first mayor of Strasbourg.

Patriotic excitement was at its height. "Marchons!" "Aux armes, citoyens!" were phrases on every lip. But as the champagne went round the ladies grew weary and pleaded for another topic. Patriotic songs? A hymn for the army of the Rhine? Something better than the jingling "Ca ira!" The host first suggested a public competition and a prize. Then he turned to Rouget de Lisle and asked him to "compose a noble song for the French people."

Rouget de Lisle tried to excuse himself. Again the champagne passed round, and just as the party broke up a fellow officer about to quit Strasbourg next day begged De Lisle for a copy of his forthcoming song.

"I make the promise on behalf of your command," Dietrich replied. Rouget de Lisle reached his lodgings close by, but not to sleep. His violin lay on the table. Taking it up, he struck a few chords. Soon a melody seemed to grow under his fingers. No sooner had he put down the notes than he dashed off the words.

Thus having in a brief hour secured for himself an undying name he threw himself upon his bed and slumbered heavily.—Reader Magazine.

STAMMERING.

Caused More Often by Habit Than by Defective Vocal Organs.

"Stammering is often more the result of habit than from any defect of the vocal organs," says an authority. It is generally, if not always, caused by a spasm of the larynx, resulting from nervous contraction of the organs, thus refusing to permit a proper flow of the air current producing tone. People rarely or never stammer when singing, for then the attention is divided between words and music, the nervousness is momentarily forgotten and the passage of the air current through the larynx is continuous and unobstructed.

"Stammering very often is the result of imitation, sometimes intentional, sometimes unconscious, and the affliction is much more general than might be supposed. In one comparatively small section of the city there are thirty-five stammerers, and every one of them is able to demonstrate to his own satisfaction not only that he does not stammer very badly, but that some other person he knows stammers a great deal worse than himself. Every stammerer is intensely sensitive about his infirmity, rarely forgives and never does forget any allusion to it which in his mind savors of ridicule."—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Comedy in a Back Street.

About 10 o'clock one morning two men met and began threatening and calling each other names. One badly called the other a liar, and the two men were about to grapple when a woman opened the door and said "Gentlemen, are you about to fight?"

"We are," they answered. "My husband has been sick for weeks and is now just able to sit up. He is very downhearted this morning, and if you'll only wait till I can drive him out to the window I know he'll be very grateful to both of you."

She disappeared into the house, and after one look into each other's face the men snuffed, shook heads and departed together.—London Telegraph.

Tobacco in Porto Rico.

"Within a very short time tobacco will be as important a product of Porto Rico as sugar is now," said Francis J. Dexter of San Juan in a correspondence of the Washington Post. "Many of the large plantations have taken up the raising of tobacco, with the result that the output of the leaf has increased many fold. Many Americans who have gone to the island have invested in tobacco lands rather than in sugar lands, and the consequence has been a rapid advance in the price of ground suitable for tobacco raising. This boom in the tobacco industry will not harm the sugar business, however. We are planting more sugar than ever before and will continue to increase the production."

Pere Marquette Accepts Law.

Detroit, Aug. 3.—E. W. Stevens, general solicitor for the Pere Marquette railroad, has sent a letter to C. I. Glasgow, state commissioner of railroads, announcing in behalf of Receiver Harmon and the road's stockholders, that the Pere Marquette will not contest the recently enacted two-cent fare law. The law goes into effect September 28.

Workmen Find Pot of Gold.

Fredrickton, N. B., Aug. 3.—Workmen excavating in Marysville, a manufacturing town near here, have uncovered 102 Spanish gold coins of the 16th century. The money is worth about $200. None of the residents of Marysville can explain how the coins came to be buried there.

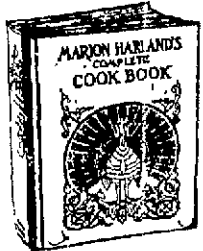

How Mark Will Travel.

Calico, Ill., Aug. 3.—Mark Twain has declined an invitation to be the city's guest at the Illinois President Roosevelt is here. He says his next overland trip will be made in a rubber-tired hearse.

Butler, Pa., Aug. 3.—A negro broke into a grocery kept by Miss James Cappahert on the Pittsburgh and Butler plank road, and while he was rifling the cash drawer Miss Cappahert attacked him. He slashed her twice across the face with a razor and beat her into insensibility.

CRABBED AGE AND YOUTH

Author Unknown

CRABBED age and youth
Cannot live together:
Youth is full of pleasure
Age is full of care;
Youth like summer morn,
Age like winter weather;
Youth like summer breeze,
Age like winter bare.
Youth is full of sport,
Age's breath is short;
Youth is nimble, age is lame;
Youth is hot and bold,
Age is weak and cold,
Youth is wise and free,
Age is a slave to three;
Youth is I do adore thee,
Oh, my love, my love is young;
Age, I do dirty thee;
Oh, sweet shepherd, hie thee,
For methinks thou stay'st too long.
